IT'S BEEN A BUSY MONTH!

Waterloo celebrations at the Coffee caravan!

Spirits weren't dampened despite the rain on the day of the Big Lunch. Plenty of good food and drink was enjoyed by all while the children amused themselves with some fun and games. Many thanks to everyone who came along and a Big thank-you to all the organisers...Same again next year?

Newspaper Deliveries Could be Returning to Great Bradley

For those of you who miss your daily paper, I know I do, then there is hope at last. You may have seen posts on Facebook from Molly Hawkins and Naomi Sharrod if not here is the gist. Caspars News is looking to extend their existing rounds to cover Great Bradley and Thurlow and possibly other villages previously covered by Thurlow news. I have spoken to Nathan Thomas of Caspars News and he is very positive that he can get the round up and running again. He will have met with Naomi by the time you read this and those on her list should have received an info sheet to complete and return but if you haven't or did not have your papers delivered by Thurlow News then please contact Nathan on 01440-820969 or email nathan.thomas@cantab.net

Great Bradley WEA Summer Newsletter 2015

Hello from your hardworking team at Bradley WEA bringing you an update on our next series of courses. In no particular order; the January 2016 course is our first choice, with Wendy Barnes talking to us about Little Hall, Lavenham, its varied history created by the people who have lived there during changing times. It is a 10 week course and includes a field trip as one of the sessions. The title is 'Prosperity to Preservation'. Wendy is local, known to us and liked. The electricity to the hall is now underground, the new heating seems to work well so we should be set up for an interesting start to 2016.

Our September course has proven to be a bit of a roller coaster with our initial choices not available to us, so with much prayer, anguish and fig rolls for energy and inspiration we looked for and found a champion riding in from Stowmarket on a brewers dray, none other than our dear friend Stuart Bowell who, as a special favour has agreed to deliver his famous course on the history of Ales and Brewing but extending this to include the personalities who have created the taverns in which so much of the history of this fair land of ours has been founded. Stuart, always a joy to listen to will cover the importance of women as 'ale wives', the varied customers, the types of food and the fun and games. We will hear about the Temperance Movement, the views of such famous writers as Dickens, Hardy, Orwell and others. Pub signs past and present, the effect of World War 1. We will continue to offer tea and coffee during our break.

One thing is for sure we are so lucky that Stuart has agreed to talk to us as he is such excellent value, he is never bitter, always mild and just a little bit 'stouter' than on his last visit, he is now working on the draught talk no doubt with a hop in his step.

Again a 10 week course at £49 including refreshments starting on 23rd September in the Village Hall.

First week as a free taster. Pint yourselves in our direction on September 23rd, have a good summer when it arrives and as you have a drink think of WEA.

For further information contact Geoffrey on 01440 783132 or Peter on 783278

WE LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING YOU AT THE BAR FROM NEAR OR FAR!

An Invitation from Great Bradley Art Group

This may be the first time you have heard of the Great Bradley Art Group (GBAG) or perhaps you have heard of it and thought it was just a discussion group about art. So with that in mind I thought that now was the time to explain what we actually do and invite you to join us.

The GBAG is a group that meet on a Tuesday afternoon in the village hall to paint. The group have been meeting for over 14 Years. During this time there have been a number of tutors and our current tutor is Jan Couling. Jan has been our tutor for a quite a while and is an extremely talented and creative artist; I should also add that she is very patient! If you would like to know more about Jan then you can find her at jan.couling.org.

We are a small group but we all have very different styles and favourite mediums to work in whether it is pastels, watercolours, acrylics or pen and ink. Jan works with us as individuals trying to develop our skills and sometimes bringing in a new technique or approach that none of us have tried before.

Maybe you have thought about joining us but are worried that you will not be very good, let me put your mind at rest there is no such thing as not being very good. From personal experience I know how it can feel to join any group. Although I loved art at school I had hardly picked up a paint brush since I left and had never had proper tuition with watercolours (my favourite medium now) let alone heard of acrylics but on retiring in 2009 I decided now was the time to do something I had never had time to tackle before. I was so concerned that everybody would be brilliant and that I would feel a complete idiot but thanks to my friends badgering me I went along for a taster session and guess what it was great. Yes I was a real novice but at no time did I feel worried about it, everyone was so friendly and helpful and the rest is history, here I am five years later still learning and enjoying painting.

If you have attended the Village Fete you will have seen some of our work exhibited in the church and a few paintings hang in the village hall. As you can imagine we choose our best work to put on show but I can assure you that we have pictures that are consigned to either the bin or tucked away in a folder. So don't be daunted by what you may have seen.

So now for the invitation, if you would like to know more why not come along and join us for a Tuesday afternoon session? You don't need masses of equipment to start and for a taster session we can rally round and provide what you need. A taster session is free. Places are limited but we would welcome more members. If you would like to come along or want to know more then please contact Anne Pigden on 01440 783175 or Pat Spires on 01440 783269. We are having a summer break at the moment but will be starting back in September/October.

Perhaps this is not for you but you know someone who would be interested so why not pass this on to them after all you don't have to live in the village to attend. Complete novice or budding Monet all are welcome.

News From Burrough Green Primary School

Greetings from Burrough Green CE Primary School. At the moment we are looking quite closely at the religious dimension of our school. One of the key responsibilities we share with other schools is to promote the spiritual, moral, social and cultural well-being of pupils, but I wonder how much we stop to think about what this means? Moral and social ideas are probably more fixed in our everyday language and interactions, and cultural experience encompasses anything related to a way of life and the varied way people express their ideas: but what of the spiritual dimension?

It is altogether a much more private and personal thing, which can make it an uncomfortable topic of conversation. But we are supposed to be developing spiritual beings; we have to talk about it, so what should we say?

I guess it would help to start with a definition. Our Spiritual Development Policy puts it like this: 'Spirituality is a state of being engendered through valuing a non-material dimension to life, and also a reflective process of personal transformation as we explore the meaning of our lives through our experiences. This results in the development of personal values and beliefs, which may include belief in the existence of a divine being.'

It hardly trips off the tongue, does it? So how can we make it meaningful and memorable? Well, we could start by picking out some key words. 'Valuing a non-material dimension,' 'reflective, personal transformation,' 'explore meaning through experiences,' 'development of personal values and beliefs,' but does that simplify and clarify it enough for young minds?

Ideally we should reduce this further to words that everyone in our community would understand. The beauty of the Burrough Green Code (our school rules) is that there are only 3 of them. They are therefore very user friendly, but also to the point; they are all that's needed.

I am ready for learning – I allow others to learn – I value myself and others

So what about these for a definition of spirituality? I value the things I cannot own – I think about what my life means – I look to change for the better – I deepen my values and beliefs. If you had to come up with alternatives, what would you say? If you can think of how they might be improved please let me know.

On a related matter we will be holding our first ever RE Day this Friday on the theme of 'The Journey of Life'. Symbolically our journey in life is often represented as a circle, or a path, whose end joins with its beginning. This is the idea behind many early mazes, which were not intended to be puzzles, or entertainments, but a route to be walked in prayer. We have a simple maze in the form of a spiral in our school garden. Just as the spiral winds up in one direction it unwinds in the other: neat. So it is really fitting that we welcome back Mr Dennington (the previous Head Teacher) on Friday, who will be bringing with him a portable labyrinth from the diocese. Children will journey through the labyrinth, pausing at different 'stations'. Just like life itself, we don't know what these will require us to do, but we'll find out along the way.

Our prayer for the week has been chosen to fit the theme of journeys.

May the road rise up to meet you.
May the wind always be at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
and rains fall soft upon your fields.
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand.

Health Week

Just before the half term break we held our annual Health Week. It started with an emphatic defeat for the staff netball team by the parents. We went down 8-5, but not without a fight. It was 5-1 at half time and only a stirring second half saved us from being completely overrun. However, we were always chasing the game and the parents showed considerable skill and 'physicality' to keep us at arm's length, and judging by all the limping participants the following day it seems like it was a good test for everyone.

The week also saw a fantastic 55 entries into the BG Bake-Off competition. Mrs Larner and I (err... Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood) were very glad of the netball run around later, after having to taste so many delicious cakes. Congratulations go to the seven Year Group winners: Maddie Howard, Emily Graves, Edward Eddery, Murrion McCulloch, Billie Maclaren-Whittaker, Isla McCulloch and Emily Metcalfe. The winners were decided following a blind tasting of the cakes by the two judges, who only knew each entry by a number. Both scores were then added together to find out who ended up on top.

A couple of days later the KS2 finalists had to make a wrap and a trifle with a limited pallet of ingredients.

Similarly, a sandwich and fruit kebab was the challenge awaiting KS1. I have to say what a fantastic job they all did, and it was a rather more comfortable judging task for the two experienced 'celebrities' with less to taste. In an announcement in front of the whole school, which would have done justice to the real Bake-Off, the champions were crowned; Maddie Howard for KS2 and Emily Metcalfe for KS1. Thank you to everyone who helped at home and at school to make this such a brilliant success.

Further glory followed for our Y4 tennis team, who finished second in the South Cambridgeshire Sports Partnership finals, which now means they progress to the county finals at Huntingdon in June. Well done to Ben Clarke, Hannah Troop, Alice Nicholson and Alex Clarke.

Wood Green Musical Extravaganza

All the Y4 pupils also took part in a Cambridgeshire Music concert at Wood Green Animal Shelter. The organisers were kind enough to write a letter of thanks to all the participants, which I would like to share with you here.

'I am writing to express my sincere thanks to your staff and pupils for their contributions to the Musical Extravaganza.

All pupils, from the time they arrived at Wood Green, through the long morning of rehearsals where they had to sit for some time before they played, to the concert in the afternoon, behaved impeccably. Their performance was absolutely brilliant and I, along with the Cambridgeshire Music staff, was very proud of their achievements and the way they performed in a truly professional way. Someone came up to me at the end, when the majority of schools had left and her comment was that the atmosphere was truly "electric" – I have to agree, and that is all down to the pupils giving 100%.

As you are aware the Musical Extravaganza was a huge event with over 1100 pupils and 154 adults from 24 schools taking part. Adding into the equation the 25 Cambridgeshire Music staff, who all had a significant part to play throughout the day, I couldn't have hoped for a better result! What an amazing day it was – not only for the schools, but for us as a Music Service. It truly showed that music is alive and well in our Cambridgeshire schools.

Thank you once again, and I wish you all the best as you develop the music in your school, and for the future.

Lesley Chapman – Deputy Head Cambridgeshire Music'

June

The start of June saw us competing in the local Kwik Cricket (yes, I have spelt it correctly) tournament, held at Histon Recreation Ground. Twitter users will already have seen a photo of the day last week when we braved driving rain and strong winds to play our national 'summer' sport. It was a tough competition for the two teams entered, but we all left smiling after an exciting afternoon. There were thrills aplenty with dropped catches, crashing wickets, run-out mishaps and glorious sixes sailing over the boundary. Well done to the whole of Class 4 who all played their part in the excitement!

Finally, our annual entry into the Cambridgeshire Young People's Film Festival is a fantastic effort by our youngest pupils from Class 1. It can be viewed on the school website (www.burroughgreen.cambs.sch.uk), where you will be invited to vote and comment about the film. It is a very simple process and, in common with previous years, your votes are needed for our film to be short-listed. It is well worth watching, so I hope you'll take the trouble.

Anyone wishing to come and visit the school will be warmly welcomed. Our next community event is our 'Songs of Praise' (it is exactly what it sounds like) at 2.45pm on 24th June.

Best wishes, Keith Archer – Head Teacher

The Rural Youth Project

A youth project aimed at delivering sport, use of film and music equipment, and internet access across 14 different villages over the summer, will visit the Great Bradley Fete this year with its 'tour bus'.

The Rural Youth Project, which is being funded by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and delivered by YMCA Suffolk, will also see young people asked about the needs of their local area. The session is aimed mainly at young people aged from 11 to 19 years-old, and will offer them the chance to seek adult advice from qualified youth workers.

The Outspoken Theatre At Great Thurlow Hall

July 31st 2015 at 7PM

For those of you who attended last year's event with the Outspoken Theatre performing 'A Comedy of Errors' – you will remember a beautiful balmy summer evening in the most wonderful setting of the front Lawn at Great Thurlow Hall – along with BBQ and drinks at what turned out to be a fantastic community event for our villages and further beyond. We raised £850 on the night and the Theatre Company themselves told us that it was the best event they had been involved in to date...

So – for 2015 – by popular demand... they are back on 31st July 2015 by kind permission of the Vestey Family at Great Thurlow Hall for 'A Midsummer Night's Dream'. A story of love, intrigue, laughter, marriage, revelry, and of course the central character of Puck entertaining the audience throughout. We would warmly welcome you all wanting to join us to come and mingle, laugh, enjoy great entertainment and food, catch up with your neighbours and friends and help raise funds for our Church. Tickets are £12 each and a supper will be available for a small cost of £4 per head. Bring your blankets, chairs and a bottle each for what promises to be a brilliant evening out. Gates open at 7pm with 'curtains up' at 7.30pm. Please do call either me or Kevin for further details but we would need to know your numbers for catering by July 25th at the very latest.
