LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome to the September issue of the Bradley Bugle.

Although September traditionally heralds the start of the Autumn months, as I type we're still enjoying warm, dry weather. Our grass is like straw, as I imagine many of your lawns might be.

Reminder to put out water in a shallow tray with some stones in it to help our wildlife survive the warm weather. We've had all kinds of creatures visit our makeshift water trough made out of a grow bag tray.

This edition of the Bugle is online only as we try to improve our sustainability credentials. There will be a few paper copies available at the Village Hall. Page 17 is where you'll find which issues will be printed.

I hope that those of you who have taken part in the Great Bradley Sunflower Competition are nurturing your plants with tender care. The competition closes on 1st September, so get measuring and send your results to Iain and Joanna on Facebook!

Happy Reading!

GREAT BRADLEY FETE from Sue Ireland

The 2022 Great Bradley Fete was a splendid afternoon in a lovely setting. The final amount raised was a record-breaking £3,700 which will go towards the upkeep of our village church, and a donation to charity. Huge thanks to the Ryder family and to everyone else who worked so hard to make the event such a great success.

RIDE AND STRIDE / PEDAL AND DRIVE 2022

Saturday 10 September 2022

Organised by Suffolk Historic Churches Trust (SHCT), Suffolk Churches Ride & Stride and Pedal & Drive sees several thousand cyclists and walkers of all ages (and drivers of vintage and classic cars), taking part in the annual fundraising event for the repair and upkeep of Suffolk churches. The money they raise helps save this wonderful part of our history, with half going to the Trust to give out as grants for church buildings, and half to the cyclist's/walker's chosen church. More details are available from www.shct.org.uk or Alice Ryder (783221)

NEWS FROM THE PARISH COUNCIL from Pat Spires

The first drops of rain are starting to fall as I write, whether we will be affected by the predicted thunder storms and potential flash floods remains to be seen.

The unprecedented heat and drought conditions we have experienced has been worrying for us and other villages set in our normally lush countryside, with the smell of smoke and the sight of it, drifting across distant fields, causing concern resulting in a flurry of posts on Facebook!

August is traditionally a quieter month as many people are away on holiday and this year is no exception. Parish Council meetings will resume in September.

Great Bradley Bonfire Night.

Probably not the village event that is uppermost in your mind as you try to stay cool but I am pleased to confirm that, yet again, Charles Ryder has generously given us permission to hold the event on the Great Bradley farms Estate. More information will be published in the October issue of The Bugle. Save the date Saturday 5th November 2022.

Pat Spires

Chair GBPC

Children's Time Capsule

You may remember that we started a Children's Time Capsule with the art work they produced for The Queens Platinum Jubilee. We would now like to include a photograph of every house in the village with the current residents if possible. Over 20 years ago a similar exercise was undertaken and proved to be a great pictorial record of property and people which fascinated so many of you at Archive Exhibitions.

If you would like to be included, please take a picture of your house with the residents in front of it. Print the photograph and on the back write the date, names of anyone in the photograph and if there are children their ages too.

The photograph needs to be delivered to Pat Spires, 5 Clarendale Estate by Tuesday 1st November. Please note that I will not print out copies for inclusion in the Time Capsule so hard copies only.

To also place a copy in The Great Bradley Archives you can email your photo to patspires@btinternet.com.

Great Bradley Neighbourhood Watch

Sadly, Great Bradley Neighbourhood Watch has ceased. A huge thank you to Caroline Greatbatch who has been so instrumental in keeping the group going for many years. With only 3 members it is not possible for the group to continue. Caroline will still post, on Facebook, relevant information that she receives from RSW.

On behalf of the Village thank you Caroline.

NEWS FROM GREAT BRADLEY VILLAGE HALL from Alison McCloskey

Summer and the school holidays are coming to a close and many activities will restart after a break.

We kick off the 'new term' with a Gin-Tasting evening which is currently planned for 24th September. I, for one, will definitely be there and am looking forward to sipping some different gins, before weaving my way home later. If you are interested in coming along contact Rosalind Barber. Tickets will be available at £15.00 pp and there will be 25 places available. Please contact Rosalind via email if you are interested - rkb1@live.co.uk and don't worry if you'd already planned to attend on the 3rd September, your place is held for the 24th September. WATCH OUT FOR UPDATES ON FACEBOOK!

We have many other social evenings planned, including another Portable Pint night on Friday, 30th September, having persuaded Tony to come back for an unscheduled visit with his usual range of beers, wines and soft drinks. We will be serving chilli and baked potatoes with all the trimming to welcome you all back. Last one of the year, so not to be missed.

Watch out for further events and new groups in the next Bugle as we have some new ideas in the pipeline. Unfortunately the sad news is that Great Bradley was unsuccessful in its bid for the Eurovision Song Contest, but if we win next year, you never know...

Remember that the Village Hall is available for Private Bookings such as birthday parties, weddings, meetings and many other activities at very reasonable rates. The hall is a cosy space with room for up to 60 people seated and more if standing and/or using the outdoor space. We are proud of the facilities available, with a well-equipped kitchen, a 'bar' area and outdoor furniture should it be needed. You can find out more by contacting our Booking Secretary, Annette Sugg, contact details below. A list of current groups and events is always on the calendar at the front of your monthly Bugle. We'd also love to hear from you with any ideas for new groups, gatherings, social events you'd like to see. Just get in touch!

GREAT BRADLEY CHURCH IS LOOKING FOR SOME NEW FRIENDS

So it is holding an 'Open House' event on Saturday 10th September from 11am to 2pm

Please come and explore this historic 1000-year-old building! Tour the church, climb the Tower, hear the famous Bells, listen to the Organ, and wander in the Churchyard

BRING FRIENDS AND FAMILY

Entry is absolutely free and includes wine, beer, and other refreshments!

By far the most historic building in the wonderful village of Great Bradley, the Church has stood for a millennium commanding the top of the Stour Valley and providing a focal point for the Village. It is the intent of the Friends of Great Bradley that it will continue to do so for the next millennium too.

Event Organiser: 'The Friend of Great Bradley Church' whose purpose is to provide support and funding for the preservation and renovation of the Church as a building, the great historic feature of the Village.

GREAT BRADLEY THROUGH THE AGES: PART 5 from Mike Brophy

The Normans - part c

We established last time that there is no evidence of an Anglo-Saxon church in present day Great Bradley, but when Bradley split into Great and Little Bradley, between 1071 & 1150, a new church would have been built by the de Tosny or Bigod family, who owned the manor of Great Bradley. The leading authority on Norman architecture, the Corpus of Romanesque Sculpture (Romanesque is an alternative name for Norman architecture) suggest that the church was built about 1130, so the Bradley's had probably split by then

Our church follows the tradition of the altar being at the east-end. The plan of the church, which is hung in the south porch, shows that the Norman structure comprises the current nave (the main part of the church) and some of the chancel (the area in front of the altar). The chancel would have been longer than it is now but was shortened in the early 14th Century. The present-day windows are not Norman and the tower is 14th century, but this picture captures the essence of the Norman church in Great Bradley.

day windows are not Norman and the tower is 14th century, but this picture captures the essence of the Norman church in Great Bradley.

The most impressive Norman features are the north & south doors (excluding the south porch, which is 16th century). The north doorway (facing the road) is plainer than the south, which is similar to the Prior's doorway at Ely Cathedral (and to a similar door in nearby Kirtling church).

The jambs of the south door (inner vertical pillars) have corbels with projecting human heads facing across the doorway and turned slightly towards the porch. Both heads are carried on thick, horizontal, columnar necks carved with bands representing the collar of a tunic, as at Ely Cathedral. As at Ely one head is clean-shaven while the other is bearded. The western (left side) head is youthful and clean-shaven with bulging almond eyes under ridges for brows. The mouth is small, full-lipped and slightly open; a left ear only is shown, and the hair is indicated by a double row of elongated beading. Originally the angle of the block formed the nose, which ran down from the junction of the brows, but the nose is worn away now. The eastern (right side) head is similar, but with a short, striated jawline beard and a long moustache, curving up at the ends. There is no hair in the centre, indicating balding, and tufts at the sides shown as clusters of beading. A right ear only.

The arch is carved with a repeating chevron, consisting of four stepped bands. The outer and inner arch are filled with flints. The outer arch support shafts are carved in sections with double-twist cable, which changes direction with each section. The sections are separated by triple rolls. The capitals on top of the pillars have motifs in the form of a double cusp at the top of each face and a stem splitting into three. The central branch terminates in a leaf with scalloped edges, while the side branches are furled leaves running horizontally across the side faces of each capital. The north door has plain, square jambs supporting a plain lintel and a tympanum (area under the arch) that has now been rendered with mortar. The lintel has a section that has been lost and repaired with flints and mortar. The pillars have hollow bases supporting cushion capitals. The eastern (left) one is a plain cushion with a square neck and the other has a fluted bell. The top part of the inner shaft (the capitals) are chamfered towards a collar at bottom of the capital.

Apart from the walls of the nave and the western end of the chancel, the other main Norman feature is the base of the chancel arch. The upper part of the arch itself is probably 14th century.

FREE THERAPY SESSIONS from Marta Maj

My name is Marta Maj. I am experienced Mindfulness based Clinical Hypnotherapy Practitioner and HG Trainee Psychotherapist. I have passed my post-graduate exam with distinction and now I am on my final practical part of clinical application to become a psychotherapist. The practical part is done under supervision of accredited clinical supervisor. To complete the final part I offer free therapy sessions (face-to-face and on ZOOM). If you or anyone you may know needs help to:

- reduce anxiety – generalised anxiety, panic attacks, fears, phobias, obsessions (OCD), lack of confidence or overwhelming stress and pressure.
- break the cycle of depression.
- resolve trauma – dissolve the symptoms of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).
- manage anger – anger disorders damage health, increase the likelihood of an early death and cause enormous misery among relatives, colleagues and innocent bystanders.
- stop addictive behaviour – alcohol, drugs, gambling, sex, TV and computer games, eating disorders - providing they want to make the effort to stop.
- relieve medical conditions – many conditions such as psoriasis, eczema, asthma, irritable bowel syndrome, chronic pain and migraine, have an emotional component. Stressful events often trigger an outbreak because emotions affect health - and vice versa.
- sleep problems, grief, and many more issues related to physical and mental health.

Please contact me at marta.maj@mmhealthandfitness.co and I will arrange a 15 minute discovery call to answer your questions and will provide more details.

THANK YOU

The Cake and Plant sale in aid of the RNLI held at Crown House on Sunday 21st August raised an impressive £475. Thank you so much for your amazing generosity. The money will support the volunteer lifeboat crews and lifeguards who will always answer the call to save every one they can, no matter where or when.
